The United Press.

CHICAGO, June 22.—The operators engaged in sending over the country the detail history of the convention were situated outside the auditorium about one hundred and fifty feet from the stenographers' desks.

SENDING CONVENTION DISPATCHES.

Connecting the two were pneumatic tubes through which the reporters' copy was drawn by the suction of an air pump worked by turning a crank, as shown in the engraving. Each convention is an improvement on the previous ones in the handling of the dispatches, and this one was no exception.

Fighting for Tickets.

CHICAGO, June 22.—The struggle for tickets is still fierce, and last night Mr.
Clarkson, of the National committee, found it necessary to knock down the sergeant-at-arms, Gen. Fitzsimmons, because the latter called him a liar in a dispute over tickets. Mr. Clarkson was right and is sustained by public opinion. A good looking dandy was selling tickets for the convention at $10 apiece in the Ohio club headquarters. He did a thriving business, and was congratulated on his success.

"Oh," he said, "I'm selling them on commission. You see, a number of the Iowa boys came to town without much money, and some of them haven't got enough to get home with. They got tickets for the convention and now they want to sell them and raise enough stuff to get out of town with.
They are sharp fellows. They don't want to sell them themselves, and so they give me a dollar apiece for taking care of them."

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Topics of the Times Given in a Terse and Spicy Manner.

John Brennan, rope route, Sandusky, O. ill health.

Lighting killed Jennie Clinger at Wilmington, O.

George Hemple, son of the actor, Samuel Hemple, committed suicide at Philadelphia.

Fratelli, Nessi & Barbarina, silk merchants of Vienna and Como, have failed for a million.

A rattlesnake took two bites from the hand of Jacob Brust, at Waverly, O., and the man died in less than two hours.

Shotwell, Clerbew & Lothman, wholesale dry goods and clothing manufacturers, assigned at Minneapolis, Minn.

S. C. Call, of Anderson, Ind., road superintendent, drew $900 to pay his workmen, and has forgotten to show up the cash or himself since.

Isaac Bishop, of Shelbyville, Ind., quarreled with his brother Elias, and ordered him to leave. He did so and carried away three leadens souvenirs of brotherly affection in his shoulder.

An investigation of the death of Michael Eckenweller, of Wapakoneta, O., developed the statement that the wife of his bosom seasoned his coffee with arsenic at the instigation of one Brownie Tester.

Frank Furness, treasurer of the Owl Creek club at Mt. Vernon, O., an organization gotten up to evade the local option clauses of the Dow law, was fined $100 and sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment in jail.

At Louisville, Ky., the supreme lodge of United Workmen deny the statement that they are working among themselves, and that the Cincinnati division is to be expelled.

Yet, while they may be as peaceful as a May morning, they can't deny that there are many divisions in their ranks.

State board of health is counting the animalculae in a drop of Ohio river beverage.
What is the world coming to, anyway? Bacteria in the water, snakes in the whiskey, beer full of microbes, choleric and frisky; tyro-toxin in milk, air full of "pizen"—there's not a blessing in this world that has not got some flies on.

Suicided in the Street.

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—George Hemple,

He was of a very cheerful temperament, and no cause can be assigned for the deed.
